As Enemies of Labor.

New Haven, Sept. 18.—Martin L. Caine of Naugatuck, democratic nominee for congress from the fifth district and Jasper McLevy of Bridgeport, the socialist nominee for congress in the fourth district, were endorsed by the state convention of labor delegates in the second day's session here today. At the same time House Leader William A. King, of Willimantic, Representative Archibald G. Prisk of Wallingford, chairman of the committee on labor, and Representative Robert N. Blakeslee of Bridgeport, of the same committee were disapproved of for re-election in resolutions passed after Secretary Ira N. Ornburn of the state federation of labor had declared that all three had been "the worst enemies of labor during the last session of the general assembly."

Lake and Tyler.
Representatives of the state carpenters' union charged Everett J. Lake, republican nominee for governor, with breaking the strike of carpenters in Hartford 1902 by refusing to supply independent employees with lumber and demanded that he be "denounced." Others asked the record of Rollin C. Tyler, the democratic nominee before any action was taken. A committee was appointed to interview both, look up their records and report to the executive officers after which the state will be regularized with the details.

Senator John N. Brooks of Farmington next came in for "denunciation" and it was voted that should aspire to the senate again every year be taken to prevent his nomination and election.

Discussion arose over endorsing McLevy, but endorsement was made of the non-partisan plan of the A. F. of L. to endorse and help elect any candidate who is known to be loyal to labor.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Two suits for $20,000,000 each were filed today by the City of Chicago on orders of Mayor Thompson against the Chicago Tribune and the Chicago Daily News, respectively. The suits, according to corporation Counsel Ettleson, allege charges made by these papers in primary campaigns that ended Tuesday have injured Chicago financially. The charges alleged false statements to the effect that the city is bankrupt and its credit exhausted, and declared that these statements had caused bonds issued by the city to sell at a higher price for supplies and materials and injured morale of city employees.

Eleanor M. Bunny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bunny of 1211 Madison street, has accepted a position as private secretary to Everett J. Lake, republican candidate for governor. Miss Bunny was formerly stenographer at the Chamber of Commerce in this city, and has until recently occupied an important position in the office of Miss Ludington, suffragist leader at Hartford.

Brandeggee in Meriden Talkfest.

Meriden, Sept. 18.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic candidate for vice-president, gave an address before a couple of thousand people at Crown street square this noon. Speaking from an automobile he requested the crowd to get in front of the machine, as he said that unlike some of the opposing candidates he could not talk out of both sides of his face. He compared the public records of Cox and Harding and spoke at length upon the conspicuous public service record of Cox in Ohio. He took a slap at Senator Brandeggee and likened him to Penrose and other autocratic bosses. He appealed for support of the ticket and was heartily cheered as he finished and preceded by a band left for the station.

New Haven, Sept. 18.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, nominee for vice-president on the democratic ticket, today was in the second day of his campaigning in Connecticut. He left Hartford during the forenoon, spoke at the Crown street square at Meriden at noon, and then was taken in an automobile for the continuance of his journey to this city, thence to Bridgeport for an afternoon address. He will close the day as the chief figure at a democratic rally in Danbury tonight. An automobile will then take him to his home in Hyde Park, N. Y., where he will rest over Sunday.

State Chairman David E. Fitzgerald and Secretary A. S. Lynch of the democratic state central committee left here for Meriden to bring the candidate to this city. No arrangements had been made here for a speech, but requests had been made that the candidate go to Bridgeport by the way of Ansonia and Shelton.

Davenport, Ia., Sept. 18.—It was a tedious process for H. D. Walbourne, a grocer and butcher to recover a lost diamond valued at $600 for his 150 chickens had swallowed the gem. The diamond was missing from his ring after he had unloaded the chickens from crates and placed them in a coop. He found the jewel today in the gizzard of the 50th fowl he slaughtered.

Republican Nominee, Flirting With Woman's Vote, Calls Fair Sex Idealists of the World.

Boston, Sept. 18.—Assertion Governor Cox after attempting to role of an idealist had turned to the coarse methods of ward politics, resorting to wilder and wilder charges, was made today by Governor Coolidge, the republican vice-presidential candidate.

The governor, addressing the republican state convention said the democratic nominee for president was named by a convention in "which idealists had very little influence." "Yet," he added, "after receiving a baptism of idealism at the White House, he attempted for a time the role of an idealist. He was to be the apostle of the 'great solemn referendum.' His address of acceptance started that way.

Success Not Marked.
"But the success has not been marked. Soon the methods of ward politics prevailed."

The Woman's Vote.
"The republican party has not been, is not lacking in idealism either in its history, purposes or leaders," he continued. "Who can name an established ideal they have not cherished? There is none. It has but now furnished four-fifths of the states necessary to enroll the idealism of the nation in the public service through equal suffrage. Through the ages woman had been natural counselor of man. In her solicitude she is the idealist of the world. She is destined to walk in hand with republican purposes to the glory of our nation."

ARTICLE X. VICE OF LEAGUE

Treaty Comes in for Its Usual Scoring

Up for Rebuke—Praise G. O. P.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 18.—Charles E. Hughes told the New Jersey republican state convention in session here today that Maine, with unmistakable emphasis, points to the verdict of the country; that the people demand a change, and with fresh courage "we shall resume the path of well-ordered government, of prosperity and progress."

An Accounting Demanded

"A general election," said Mr. Hughes, "is the great assize, the only time when administration is brought to an accounting. We are not a censorious people, but levity in passing judgment upon officers of government and political parties ill becomes a democracy. The best surety of the future is not in the promise of platforms but in the certainty of rebuke for maladministration and in the checking of harmful tendencies by the displacement of those responsible for them and the refusal to invest with power those who would continue or condone them. We endeavor to appreciate accurately the mischief, not simply to be critical but to point the remedy and the future course."

Reviewing the history of the war, Mr. Hughes said "never in our history had an opposition party so completely subordinated all partisan differences to the support of the administration" and further on he declared:

Republicans Aided War.

"In truth, it was the republican leaders, insistent in their demand for speed and efficiency in military effort, who in largest measure furnished the driving power behind an administration which too long had fatuously cherished a false security and who too long had been benumbed by inactivity and difficulty to vindication of American rights."

Unpreparedness resulted in grievous extravagance in outlay in the hurried effort to make amends, Mr. Hughes charged, and while the people paid willingly they paid far more than they should have paid.

Economical Party Wanted.

Discussing this issue and the remedy, Mr. Hughes said:
"The clearest call of the day is to put out the party which is responsible for this extravagance and install the party pledged to economy."

"When congress conferred extraordinary authority upon the president in order to secure the unity of action essential to the war enterprise it was of course assumed that there would always be a sound and adequate reason in relation to the actual conduct of war when this authority was used. The war powers were for the conduct of the war, not for peace."

Mr. Hughes discussed several of the articles of the covenant to which objections have been made and of Article X he said:

"This article has been described as 'the heart of the covenant.' If it is, the covenant has a bad heart. Article X is really the vice of the covenant."

FISCHER MAY FIGHT
EXTRADITION PLANS

Man Who Claimed to Know About Plot Called Insane

ISSUED NUMEROUS WARNINGS

Last Month Mysterious Lunatic Al-vised Friends to Draw Money Out of Banks—Contest Brewing Over Bringing Him to U. S.

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 18.—A legal fight over extradition of Edward Fischer, detained here in connection with warnings he issued concerning the New York explosion, loomed today.

Counsel for Fischer, former tennis star, insist that, having been adjudged insane by the Hamilton lunacy commission after his arrest here yesterday he cannot be removed from Canada.

N. L. Buchanan and M. B. Creighton, U. S. secret service men from Buffalo who have arrived here to take Fischer back to the United States, claim that some years ago he was detained in an asylum at Plainfield, N. J., on an insanity charge and that this paved the way for immediate deportation.

Issued Many Warnings.

New York, Sept. 18.—Edwin P. Fischer, detained in Hamilton, Ont., in connection with the investigation of the Wall Street explosion warned fellow tennis players as much as two weeks ago to "take a tip" and get their money out of the banks because "something is going to happen," according to a statement today by J. P. Allen, a tennis expert who frequently played with Fischer, himself a city champion.

Fischer, according to the statement, entered the West Side tennis club here during the recent tournament and with no attempt at secrecy asked Allen if he had any money deposited in a bank. Answered in the affirmative he told him to "draw it out" and to have the "cash where you can get it when you want it."

This warning was given about August 31, according to Allen at the time of the all-comers tournament, where Fischer frequently was called upon to officiate in various capacities.

Allen said he paid no attention to Fischer, who Allen declared had a reputation for volubility.

Fischer Prominent Man.

"For Fischer to assume an attitude antagonistic to the possessors of wealth," said Mr. Allen, "is as surprising at this time as the matter of the warnings. From his earliest days, as one of the greatest tennis players of the country, he associated with men accustomed to the refinements of wealth. He first gained tennis prominence in 1896 when he ranked number five on the national list of the players of the country. It is significant that the number one of that year was Robert D. Wrenn, who is now one of the important figures of the New York tennis world."

"Fischer was ranked as number one in 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920."

"Not only a player but a socially important figure in the Metropolitan and New State singles championships."

Fischer Called Insane.

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Dr. William L. Russell, medical superintendent of Bloomingdale hospital, said today that Edward P. Fischer, who issued the warning concerning the New York bomb explosion, had been confined at the hospital in 1905 for about a month and again in 1916 for the same length of time. On occasion Dr. Russell committed at Bloomingdale.

Record showed Fischer had been "manic" at times and "insane" at others. He had been confined at the hospital with attacks of insanity.

Two weeks ago a Manhattan subway train, he said, a man who introduced himself as his "old college chum Fischer," talked of a social revolution, and told him he was employed by the French high commission as an interpreter. Fischer said there would soon be uprisings in New York and elsewhere, Buenos Aires, he described Fischer as "a plain nut."

Known About the Explosion.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 18.—Search was started here today for a man whom federal authorities were told had predicted the New York bomb explosion of Thursday. This man, federal officials were told, in arguing with several others about the principles and practices of the I. W. W. last Monday, said:

"Something will bust in the east this week that will open your eyes."

The explosion Thursday noon in Wall street caused them to notify federal authorities.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 18.—Appointment of a state commission with absolute power to control and regulate the coal industry of Alabama is recommended in the report of Governor Kilby's committee which has been investigating the strike of union miners in the Alabama soft coal fields.

The report, which was made public today, holds operators and union leaders equally responsible for present conditions in the mining districts of the state. Some operators, the report states have taken advantage of the situation and have been guilty of profiteering.

The investigators submitted a bill creating a commission of three members to be chosen by the state supreme court to regulate the industry.

Governor Kilby said he would have it introduced in the legislature now in session and would make an effort to have it enacted into law.
